Lynda K. Rockwood

Vitrification Kit: A Little Alchemy, Humor, and Truth is from the Atomic West series dating from 1992-1997. The series is a body of work specific to the Hanford Nuclear Reservation and the environmental dilemma of the Cold War legacy. The work integrates obvious and subtle information. It is not intended to be didactic, rather to engage the viewer and raise consciousness toward this incredible environmental site which has become part of our geological history.